Emma Wickham

Experienced Florida 4-Her

About Me

I have been an active member of St. Lucie County 4-H for the past 11 years. 4-H has shaped who I am and created so many new opportunities. One of the main ones is being able to serve as the State Council Secretary this past year. This gave me the ability to grow my leadership skills and the influence I have on younger members. When I am not participating in 4-H events, I can be found cashiering at my job, catching up on my homework, reading, or hanging out at the beach with my friends.

4-H Skills Development

Communication

- As the State Council Secretary, I learned how to communicate clearly with the rest of my team
- As the chair of the iLead committee, I have learned how to send regular and effective emails to my committee members
- At National 4-H Conference, I will use my communication skills by active listening and using respectful dialogue during group activities

Planning/Organizing

- This year I organized and led a district wide workshop on rabbit showmanship
- By being a chair of the iLead planning committee, I have learned how to organize and plan committee meanings with my peers, and a summer camp for youth
- I have learned how to plan around a busy schedule as a State Officer this past year to make time for all the events and committments I had

Decision Making

- As my countys voting delegate for the Southeast District Board, I have learned how to make wise decisions that will benefit the district
- At Florida 4-H Legislature last year, I learned how to weigh peoples perspectives on ethical issues and make decisions that will impact my community.

As the iLead chair, I had to make decisions with my cochair that would be the most beneficial and effective for our committee.

Problem Solving

- This year I helped fix things that went wrong with our County Council's annual post fair celebration to result in a better turnout
- On iLead committee this year we focused on solving some of the "problems" that could have made the camp less enjoyable for some people
- As a State Officer, I constantly had to make quick decisions to help solve problems that came up at Executive Boards..
